Abstracts have constituted a significant portion of the work of the Institute, but according to the present and previous plans for the future, there has been progress in this matter. The group of 100-120 publications and translations and foreign literature of recent years, together for 1940-41, 1941-42, is rapidly coming to the attention of all those in the United States who are interested in the field of Japanese literature.

These results are in line with the findings of other studies on the effects of social support on mental health. For example, a meta-analysis by Cohen and Wills (1985) found that social support buffers the effects of stress on mental health. Similarly, a study by Cohen et al. (1985) found that social support is associated with lower levels of depression and anxiety. These findings suggest that social support is an important factor in maintaining mental health, and that interventions aimed at improving social support may be effective in reducing mental health problems.

These results indicate that the 20% increase in self-reported savings is due solely to the financial literacy intervention. This finding is the second in a series of previous work showing that many of the financial and consumption decisions of low-income households are suboptimal.

Relating to memorializing the Congress of the United States for federal aid in making provision for the national forests of the State.

WHEREAS, The national forests in California constitute a large and important part of the natural resource of the State;

WHEREAS, The adequate protection and successful management of this resource is of vital importance socially and economically to the people of California; and

WHEREAS, Large losses from fire continue to occur and operate to defeat the purposes for which these national forests were created; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly and Senate of the State of California, jointly. That the attention of Congress be respectfully called to the need for making additional provision for the national forests of the State. Among the immediate needs are those having to do with the proper housing, communication and travel of the existing protection force, such as lookout houses, firemen's cabins, telephone lines, roads, trails, and fire trucks. Lack of sufficient facilities of this nature results in many fires becoming conflagrations with large expenditures for their suppression and tremendous losses of timber and other forest resources. Second only to the need for additional facilities is the importance of augmenting the protection personnel to the end that the number of fires may be reduced through the employment of proper prevention activities and that the fires that do start may be held to minimum area through prompt and adequate attack.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
SACRAMENTO, May 13, 1929.

To the Senate of the State of California.

I am herewith returning Senate Bill No. 462 without my approval.

This bill increases the salary of the librarian of Yolo County $50 a month, an increase recommended by the board of supervisors, but not recommended by the grand jury as is provided for county government employees in the code. The Yolo County government bill, Assembly Bill No. 540, as originally introduced, carried this increase; but the foreman of the 1928 grand jury advises me that, because of his objection to the inclusion of an item in a county government bill not recommended by the grand jury, Assemblyman Noyes amended the bill by striking out the provision.

Furthermore, the 1928 grand jury, in its report to the superior court, advised the court that the expense of the office of the county librarian was in excess of the needs of the county. I feel that just now, especially in our agricultural counties, we should be very cautious in increasing expense beyond what grand juries are willing to recommend. In this, and in my consequent reluctance to sign the bill, its author fully concurs.

The bill is also objectionable because as originally introduced, it was a skeleton bill amending section 4263 of the Political Code, the section relating to salaries, fees and expenses of officers of counties of the thirty-fourth class. As it is now before me it amends section 9934 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of county free libraries," etc., thus making a complete change in title, in subject matter, and in the code to be amended.

For these reasons I am withholding my approval of the bill.

Respectfully submitted,

C. C. YOUNG, Governor.

Senate Bill No. 462 ordered to unfinished business.

The tax collector shall make an entry on the margin of the assessment book, with deductions from the total assessment as extended on the assessment roll, showing what certain property has been released by the payment of the taxes as herein provided, together with the amounts of such taxes separately and specifically set forth.

Such notice shall state the day and hour and the place of sale, which sale must be had not less than twenty-one or more than twenty-eight days from the time of the first publication, and the place shall be in the tax collector's office, and shall contain a description of the property to be sold and the least amount which will be accepted as a bid thereon, which amount shall be the amount of all taxes, penalties and costs for which the property was sold to the state at said sale. The properties enumerated shall each be preceded by a sale number, such sale numbers running in regular sequence. Said notice herein provided for shall be in substance, and may be in form as follows:

SEC. 3. Section 3817 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: "

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE

On page 2, line 44, of the printed bill, after the period following the word "state", insert the following:

"SEC. 4. The Legislature hereby declares that the amendments to sections 3747 and 3764 of the Political Code contained in this act are not a change in, but a statement and declaratory of the law as the Legislature intended it to be by the terms of those sections prior to this amendment. All publications of delinquent lists or notices of sale under sections 3771 and 3771a of the Political Code failing to enter taxes, penalties and costs as separate entries but entering the foregoing amounts in one total sum and all sales, certificates of sale, tax deeds or other tax conveyances based upon such entries on any assessment roll or delinquent list are hereby confirmed, validated and legalized, and the same shall be construed and operate at all times and upon all occasions in law in the same manner as if such entries were separately set forth on the delinquent list and notices of sale under sections 3771 and 3771a.

SEC. 5. The Legislature hereby declares that it deems it necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety that this act shall, under the provisions of section 1, article four, of the constitution of the State of California, take effect immediately.

The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity:

Due to the recent decision of the supreme court of the State of California in the case of Gottstein v. Kelly, 77 Cal. Dec. 485, the possible construction to be placed upon the provisions of sections 3747 and 3764 of the Political Code would require that taxes, penalties and costs should be separately shown on the publication of delinquent lists and notices of sale under sections 3771 and 3771a; inasmuch as the tax collectors of the state have completed preparatory work on the publication of the delinquent list which must be published on or before June 8, 1929, and great expense would be involved in the publication of the delinquent list to state as separate items the amount of taxes, penalties and costs due on property subject to tax sales and the possibility of error would be greatly increased, many tax titles acquired at tax sales would be jeopardized.

This act shall take effect immediately."

Motion carried.

"SECTION 1. Section 831 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

831. The municipal court must, on motion, based upon a demand of the defendant therefor in writing, accompanied by an affidavit of merits, made and filed at the time he answers or demurs, change the place of trial of an action commenced in such court to another court in which such action is cognizable, as follows:

1. For the recovery of possession of real property, and for injuries thereto; to the municipal court or justice's court, if the action be cognizable in such justice's court, established in the city or township, respectively, where the real property is situated.

Where the real property is situated partly within and partly without a city in which there is established a municipal court, the plaintiff may elect whether to sue in the municipal court or the appropriate justice's court, or in the superior court, and the court so selected is the proper court for the trial of such action; provided, that all such actions must be tried in a court in which such action is cognizable, established in the county in which such real property or some part thereof is situated.

2. For the recovery of the penalty or forfeiture imposed by statute; to the municipal court or justice's court, if the action be cognizable therein, established in the city or township, respectively, where the cause of action, or some part thereof, arose; provided, said cause, or some part thereof, arose within the county in which the municipal court, in which such action is commenced, is situated; otherwise, to the court in which said action is cognizable, situated in the county where said cause of action arose; and provided, that when such penalty or forfeiture is imposed for an offense committed on a lake, river, or other stream of water, situated partly within and partly without the city in which there is established a municipal court, the plaintiff may elect whether to sue in the municipal court of such city, or in the appropriate justice's or superior court, and the court so selected is the proper court for the trial of such action.

3. Against a public officer, or person especially appointed to execute his duties, for an act done by him in virtue of his office; or against a person who, by his command or in his aid, does anything touching the duties of such officer; to the municipal or justice's court, if the action be cognizable therein, established in the city or township, respectively, where the cause, or some part thereof, arose; provided, said cause, or some part thereof, arose within the county in which the municipal court, in which such action is commenced, is situated; otherwise, to the court in which such action is cognizable, situated in the county where the cause of action arose.

4. In all other cases; to the municipal or justice's court, if the action be cognizable therein, established in the city or township, respectively, in which the defendants, or some of them, reside at the commencement of the action, if within the county in which the municipal court established in the city in which either of the parties reside, and none of the defendants reside in the city where the action is commenced; and cases in which none of the defendants reside in the county in which such action is commenced, to the municipal or justice's court, if cognizable therein, situated in the city or township, as the case may be, where the defendants, or some of them reside; otherwise to the superior court of such county.

When the action is for injury to person or personal property, or for death from wrongful act or negligence, the plaintiff may elect whether to sue in the municipal court or the appropriate justice's or superior court, having jurisdiction over the territory where the injury occurs, or the injury causing death occurs, or in which the defendants, or some of them, reside at the commencement of the action, and the court so selected is the proper court for the trial of such action.

If any person is improperly joined as a defendant, or has been made a defendant solely for the purpose of having the action tried in the municipal court established in the city where he resides, his residence must not be considered in determining the demand for change of place of trial of the action.

If none of the defendants reside in the state, or, if residing in the state and the place in which they reside is unknown to the plaintiff, the plaintiff may elect to sue in any municipal court, and the court so selected is the proper court for the trial thereof.

If the defendant is about to depart from the state, the plaintiff may elect to sue in the municipal court established in the city in which either of the parties reside, and the court so selected is the proper court for the trial thereof.

ASSEMBLY AMENDMENT TO SENATE BILL NUMBER NINETY-NINE.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 2, line 9, of the printed bill, after the word "therein", insert the following:

"(4) When an answer is filed in an action to recover a debt or liquidated demand, if it is claimed that there is no defense to the action, on motion of the plaintiff, supported by a verified complaint, or if not verified, then by the affidavit of the plaintiff or of any other person having knowledge of the facts, the answer may be stricken out and judgment may be entered, in the discretion of the court, unless the defendant by affidavit shall show such facts as may be deemed by the judge hearing the motion sufficient to entitle him to defend.

Such affidavit shall be made by the defendant, or by any other person, having knowledge of the facts, and shall set forth facts showing that the defendant has a good and substantial defense to the plaintiff's action (or to a portion thereof) upon the merits, as the deponent verily believes, and it shall appear in the affidavit that the facts pertaining to the action have been fully and fairly stated to defendant's counsel, naming him, and that the defendant upon such statement has been advised by such counsel that he has a defense to the action (or to some portion thereof) upon the merits. The facts so stated shall be the personal knowledge of the affiant, shall be set forth in the affidavit with particularity, and the affidavit shall show affirmatively that the affiant, if sworn as a witness, can testify competently thereto. If all facts relied upon as tending to establish such meritorious defense are not within the personal knowledge of one person, then such as are not within the knowledge of the person making the affidavit of merits shall be supported by the affidavit or affidavits of the person or persons qualified, as above, and said supporting affidavits shall be drawn with like particularity.

If it appear that such defense applies only to a part of the plaintiff's claim, or that any part is admitted, the plaintiff may have judgment entered forthwith for so much of his claim as such defense does not apply to, or as is admitted, on such terms as may be just, and the cause of action may be severed accordingly. A judgment entered under this section is an appealable judgment, as in other cases."

ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION No. 11.

Relative to restricted immigration.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of this State has consistently urged adherence by the United States to a policy of restricted immigration; and

WHEREAS, The present absence of restriction and supervision of immigration across the southern boundary line of the United States, opens the door annually to thousands of citizens of the republic of Mexico, to large numbers of citizens of nations under the quota who would otherwise be excluded and to many aliens ineligible to citizenship; and

WHEREAS, The standard of living of the great mass of citizens of the republic of Mexico is such that no good reason exists why the citizens thereof should be given preference, as to entry into the United States, over the peoples of the European stocks from which the great majority of American citizens are descended; and

WHEREAS, The influx of laborers across the Mexican border causes unfair and unjust competition to American labor, and at the same time abrogates and nullifies the beneficial results to be expected from a national policy of restrictive immigration; and

WHEREAS, The continued unrestricted inflow of Mexican people and the rate of increase of those already here, mean the gradual replacement of the American people by those of Mexican blood; and indicate that in the near future the populations of the southern and western states of the United States will become predominantly Mexican; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly and the Senate of the State of California, jointly. That the Legislature of this State protests against a continuance of the present unrestricted immigration from the republic of Mexico; and be it further

Resolved. That the Congress of the United States be and it is hereby respectfully petitioned and urgently requested promptly to provide legislation placing the republic of Mexico within the provisions of the restrictive immigration laws of the United States and providing a proper annual immigration quota therefor; and be it further

Resolved. That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States and to each Senator and Representative in Congress from the State of California.

Bill read third time.

URGENCY CLAUSE.

SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of article IV of the constitution of the State of California, and shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such urgency: Many school districts within the State of California are without sufficient money with which to purchase school lots, for building or purchasing one or more school buildings or making alterations or additions to same or restoring or rebuilding school buildings damaged, injured or destroyed by fire or other public calamity, for insuring school buildings, for supplying school buildings with furniture or necessary apparatus, for improving school grounds, for liquidating any indebtedness already incurred for said purposes or refunding any valid outstanding indebtedness of such district evidenced by bonds or warrants thereof. Many school districts have within the last two years voted bonds for raising money for such purposes and the proceedings in many of such bond elections were irregular but complying with all the provisions of this act, and by reason of such minor irregularities and defects in such proceedings, not jurisdictional, such bonds can not now be sold. The population of many of these districts has increased so rapidly that the present school facilities of such districts are unable to meet the needs of the great increase of pupils in such districts and it is necessary and urgent that such bonds and the proceedings thereunder be validated at an early date in order that said school building, lots, equipment and facilities may be purchased or built before the opening of the next school year which in many instances would be impossible if this act did not go into effect immediately but were required to wait until 90 days after adjournment of this Legislature.

SEC. 5. The Legislature hereby declares that it deems it necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, that this act shall, under the provisions of section 1, article IV, of the constitution of the State of California, take effect immediately.

The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity:

Due to the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the State of California in the case of Gottstien vs. Kelly, 77 Cal. Dec. 485, the possible construction to be placed upon the provisions of sections 3747 and 3764 of the Political Code would require that taxes, penalties and costs should be separately shown on the publication of delinquent lists and notices of sale under sections 3771 and 3771a; inasmuch as the tax collectors of the state have completed preparatory work on the publication of the delinquent list which must be published on or before June 8, 1929, and great expense would be involved in the publication of the delinquent list to state as separate items the amount of taxes, penalties and costs due on property subject to tax sales and the possibility of error would be greatly increased, many tax titles acquired at tax sales would be jeopardized.

This act shall take effect immediately.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this constitution, the Legislature shall biennially set aside and provide for the distribution among the various firemen's pension, relief, health, life and accident insurance funds of any county, city and county, municipality or other political subdivision of a sum not to exceed one-half the revenues accruing from the taxation of premiums of fire insurance companies and associations for fire insurance premiums under the provision of subdivision (b) of section 14 of this article. The manner and amount of the moneys distributed under this section shall be determined by the Legislature but must be based upon the proportion that each particular pension, relief, health, life and accident insurance fund bears to the aggregate of all such funds existing in the State at the time the biennial distribution is made; provided, however, that the Legislature may provide for the distribution of a portion of such fund to counties, cities and counties, municipalities or other political subdivisions maintaining a paid or volunteer fire department where no provision has been made for the creation of a pension, relief, health, life or accident insurance fund in such political subdivision.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

SACRAMENTO, May 15, 1929.

To the Senate of the State of California.

Senate Bill No. 565 is returned herewith without my approval.

This bill provides an appropriation of $525,000 to the University of California for the construction and equipment of buildings at Los Angeles. This is coupled with the provision that The Regents shall pay to the State the net sale proceeds from other property which they are now in the course of disposing.

The bill is substantially a temporary financing measure for the university's construction program. It is essentially an urgency measure and was intended as such, but through inadvertence the urgency clause was omitted. A new bill to take care of the situation has been introduced and is already through both houses. All parties agree that I should not sign the present measure.

Accordingly, the bill is returned without approval.

Respectfully submitted.

C. C. YOUNG, Governor.

Relating to resurvey of north boundary of Hoopa Indian Reservation and modification of Klamath River Fish and Game District Initiative Act.

WHEREAS, The people of the State of California, by initiative act passed at the general election in November, 1924, ordained that the waters of the Klamath River were, and would thereafter be the Klamath River Fish and Game District and prohibited the construction or maintenance of any dam or other artificial obstruction within the district; and

WHEREAS, An effort is now being made to annul said initiative act by causing the United States to resurvey the north boundary of the Hoopa Indian Reservation along the lower Klamath River so as to relocate the said north boundary at a point 26 chains north of the position it has occupied since the early eighties thus placing several miles of the river under the jurisdiction of the federal government and beyond the control of the initiative act; and

Resolved by the Assembly and the Senate of the State of California, jointly, That the Legislature of the State of California hereby protests any change in or relocation of surveyed lines affecting in any manner the Klamath River within the State of California, as being an attempt to modify and annul the solemn act of the people of this State in creating the Klamath River Fish and Game District; and be it further

Resolved, That it is the sense of this resolution and of this Legislature that before any approval of any change in existing surveys, or before any new surveys be approved, that a public hearing or protests already on file be held under the authority of the Department of the Interior in the manner and form prescribed by law and existing regulations at which time all parties interested may appear and be heard; and be it further

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

The following report of special committee was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF THE STATE SENATE, APPOINTED TO ASCERTAIN WHETHER ILLEGAL COMBINATION OR CONSPIRACY EXISTS AMONG MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN CEMENT.

Your committee appointed pursuant to that certain resolution adopted by this Senate upon the seventeenth day of January, 1929, to investigate as to the existence or nonexistence of a reputed illegal combination or conspiracy among manufacturers and dealers in cement in the State of California, for the control of the market price in cement and the suppression of free competition, begs leave to report as follows:

On January 18, 1929, the President of the Senate, pursuant to the resolution of said Senate adopted on January 17, 1929, appointed Senators Boggs, Carter, Inman, Herbert C. Jones and Waggy, as a committee to investigate as to the existence or nonexistence of such reputed illegal combination or conspiracy, with full power to issue subpoenas and bring witnesses before it and examine them as to the facts or purported facts as to such reputed illegal combination or conspiracy and to compel the production for examination by such committee of all necessary books, papers, documents and records material thereto, and did by said resolution of January 17, 1929, set aside from the contingent fund of the Senate the said make provision for the use of said committee in and investigation of the same of $4000.

Said committee so appointed has, as yet, had nothing and undertaken to discharge its said duty of investigating as to the existence or nonexistence of such criminal illegal combination or conspiracy.

Subpoenas duces tecum were duly and regularly issued and duly and regularly served upon Robert B. Henderson, W. H. George, George R. Gray, L. F. Deane, John T. Connor, C. C. Merrill, C. A. Low, Arthur B. Shelby, H. T. Battelle and A. Emory Wilson, requiring each of them to bring with him certain books, papers, documents and records in his possession or under his control and deposited and described in the subpoena.

In pursuance of said subpoenas duly and regularly issued and served, said persons appeared before said committee of investigation of this Senate, and refused and declined to answer certain questions made up to the same and referred to produce proper books, papers, documents and records material of them, such being in their possession or under their control and required to and refused to do, particularly aspects from the report of said committee presented to and filed with this Senate, on March 8, 1929, and from the explanation and report of said committee presented to and filed with the Senate on March 11, 1929, and questions being also set forth in the 'Excerpts from the transcript of testimony' introduced to the Senate, March 8, 1929, to which reference is hereby made.

The truth as to the existence or nonexistence of such criminal illegal combination or conspiracy is all set to rest largely within the knowledge of these said witnesses or in the proper books, papers, documents and records material of them, such being in their possession or under their control.

This honorable Senate did on March 11, 1929, adopt a resolution declaring the said W. H. George, George R. Gray, L. F. Deane, John T. Connor, C. C. Merrill, C. A. Low, Arthur B. Shelby, H. T. Battelle and A. Emory Wilson to be guilty of contempt of this Senate and ordering that said persons and each of them be committed to the county jail in the county of Sacramento, State of California, until they purged themselves of this contempt by answering the questions which were propounded to them by said committee, and by producing the books, papers, documents and records required of them by the said subpoenas duces tecum.

Said persons did thereafter institute action legal in nature for the purpose of determining the legality of the said order of this Senate that they be committed to the said county jail in the county of Sacramento, State of California.

The Supreme Court of the State of California, at the instance of said committee and of the Attorney General of the State of California, granted original jurisdiction over said matters pending before said court, the view of compelling said matters to the end that the same court be enabled to determine whether or not the adjournment of the Legislature by the Senate in this said matter was as it might be advised in the premises.

That said matter was brought to said Supreme Court upon oral argument of or about the twenty-second day of March, 1929.

That upon the fifteenth day of May, 1929, the said court, the date set for the final adjournment of the Legislature, said Supreme Court rendered its decision in said matter, holding that said Senate had jurisdiction to bind said persons in contempt thereof, and that said persons were in contempt of the Senate, but discharged said persons upon the ground that the commitment of said Senate was void because of the lack of certain averments therein.

Your committee reports that if said Supreme Court had not rendered the said decision within a reasonable time before the adjournment of said Legislature, said commitment could have been amended so as to have amended said writress to answer the questions propounded by said committee as herein recited, but that owing to the lateness of the rendition of said decision, this Senate is now precluded from pursuing said matter and from taking any other or further steps to secure said evidence, and that because thereof said investigation must now be abandoned.

However, your committee does have to report that owing to the similarity of prices of cement prevailing between the various cement companies throughout the State of California, that we are not satisfied that an illegal combination in restraint of trade does not exist, and that we are of the further opinion that said said witnesses herein compelled to testify and to produce the books and papers mentioned, the existence or nonexistence of such illegal combination might have been established, but that said refusal made your committee to the conclusion that evidence in the possession of said persons might have disclosed the existence of such illegal combination in restraint of trade.

J. M. INMAN,
HENRY F. CARTER,
F. S. ROGERS,
J. L. WAGY.

ON ENROLLMENT, ENROLLMENT AND READING.

SENATE CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, May 15, 1929.

MR. PRESIDENT: Your Committee on Enrollments, Enrollment and Printing has examined Senate Bill No. 282. An act to amend section 7295 of the Penal Code, relating to the salaries of judges in the superior courts, and reports that the same has been correctly enrolled, and presented to the Governor on the fifteenth day of May, 1929, at two o'clock and thirty minutes P.M.

JONES, RAY, Chairman.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

SACRAMENTO, May 15, 1929.

To the Senate of the State of California.

I am herewith returning Senate Bill No. 282 without my approval.

This bill provides for a uniform State contribution of $4,000 to the salaries of the superior judges of the State. At the election of 1922, under the same proposition was presented to the voters, except that the amount proposed was $2,000 for each judge. This was defeated, however, by a majority of more than 82,000.

At the last legislative session, representatives from the Finance and the Ways and Means committees worked on the problem for several weeks, and finally agreed upon a schedule of State contribution to these salaries based on the respective populations of the counties, and as far as could be devised. These amounts will be automatically adjusted when the next Federal census reveals more precise figures.

By this action the State's cost of this contribution of superior judges has varied almost one third, or approx to two $240,000 per biennium. The State commiserates the work of its judges and desires to treat them fairly, but after the generous increase of last session it would hardly seem proper to follow it up by another biennial raise of $190,000, which would be the case should this bill become a law.

Accordingly I am withholding my approval.

Respectfully submitted

C. C. YOUNG, Governor.

SPECIAL REPORT.

The following communication was presented:

By Senator Jones, Herbert C.:

REPORT OF SENATOR HERBERT C. JONES ON THE EXISTENCE OF A REPUTED CEMENT TRUST.

Two reports have been filed by the special committee of the Senate appointed to investigate the existence of a reputed cement trust in this State. Both of these reports dealt with matters incidental to or apart from the main purpose for which the committee was appointed. The first report, dated March 8, 1929, dealt with the refusal of certain witnesses to testify or produce records, and was the basis for subsequent proceedings before this Senate for contempt. These proceedings in turn were reviewed by the Supreme Court of the State, which upheld the jurisdiction of the Senate but discharged the witnesses upon the ground that the commitment by the Senate was void because of the lack of certain averments therein. (Application of Battelle for Writ of Habeas Corpus, 77 Cal. Dec. 663, May 14, 1929.)

The second report, dated May 14, 1929, recited that the decision of the Supreme Court was rendered too late to take further testimony before the adjournment of the Legislature, and that it was therefore impossible for the committee to compel the companies to disclose their records, for the purpose of establishing the existence or nonexistence of an illegal combination in restraint of trade.

As I was unable to attend the meetings of the committee in the second period of the session when the contempt proceedings were considered, I did not feel it would be proper for me to sign either report, and hence did not join in the reports filed by the other four members of the committee.

PURPOSE OF INVESTIGATION.

This third report, which I now present, seeks to deal with the main purpose for which the committee was appointed, namely, the practice of price fixing in the cement industry. It is based upon the hearings which took place in San Francisco on January 24 and 25, 1929, and in Los Angeles on February 4, 5, and 6, 1929, at which all of the members of the committee were present.

Notice of these hearings was sent to all the cement companies in the State of whom the committee had any knowledge, namely:

California Portland Cement Company.

Riverside Portland Cement Company.

Southwestern Portland Cement Company.

Monolith Portland Cement Company.

Pacific Portland Cement Company.

Henry Cowell Lime and Cement Company.

Santa Cruz Portland Cement Company.

Yosemite Portland Cement Company.

Calaveras Cement Company.

Old Mission Cement Company.

Western Lime and Cement Company.

Nicoll and Company (agent for foreign cement).

Wilbur-Ellis Company (agent for foreign cement).

The procedure that was followed, both at the hearings in San Francisco and in Los Angeles, was first to hear the testimony of those officials who represent the State, the counties, the municipalities, the irrigation districts and other public bodies that purchase cement. Thereafter the testimony of the cement companies was taken.

The main purpose for the appointment of the committee was to ascertain whether there exists uniformity of prices among cement producers, and whether this uniformity arises by reason of some agreement or understanding which would constitute an illegal combination or conspiracy.

UNIFORM BIDS TO STATE.

The testimony of representatives of the State Department of Finance, the State Purchasing Department, and the Highway Commission, shows that there has existed uniformity of price on bids to the State over a period of many years. For the year 1927 (the last on which bids for purchasing cement for State institutions had been taken by the State previous to the hearings) the prices were identical by all northern California companies on all northern California bids, and by all southern California companies on all southern California bids. The single exception (other than San Diego) was in the case of bids for the Santa Barbara State Teachers College, where northern and southern territories apparently overlapped.

The 1927 bids for State institutions are as follows:

(Printed Transcript, pages 11-21.)

The uniformity of these bids is evident at a glance. Not only does this hold true for the year 1927 but a study of bids made in previous years to the State Purchasing Department for State institutions reveals a similar uniformity. (Printed Transcript, pages 32-37.)

This uniformity of prices was such that on April 3, 1925, the State Purchasing Agent addressed a letter to the Chief of Division of Purchases, advising that all bids had been

"rejected for the reason first, that the price * * * for the twelve months business is not any better than the price we can secure on small lots * * *

"Second, that the prices indicate an understanding of the cement companies as to the prices to be charged for all cement."

EXPERIENCE OF ALL PUBLIC AGENCIES.

The experience of the city of Los Angeles and of irrigation districts, counties, other municipalities and public bodies reveals much the same identity of bids. This is indicated, as one example, by the testimony of the Los Angeles city purchasing agent, who presented the bids received by the city on twenty five jobs extending over a period from 1925 to 1929. These bids occupy eleven pages of the printed transcript, and show the same practical uniformity for all twenty five projects. (Exhibit L. A. No. 1, Transcript, pages 396-406.)

From these bids to the State and its political subdivisions it appears that the companies made identical bids irrespective of whether they were close to the job and would have a low freight charge, or were remote from the job and would have a heavy freight charge. The purchaser was left without any choice so far as price was concerned. Therefore, the business was often awarded equally between all the companies; sometimes it was rotated; and sometimes, as one witness facetiously remarked, it was placed by drawing lots.

HOW UNIFORMITY ASSURED.

The testimony showed that to obtain this uniformity one of the companies acts as the "bell-wether." In northern California, this "bell-wether" is the Davenport plant, and in southern California the Riverside plant.

These respective plants issue printed circulars, about once a month, giving the price at which cement will be delivered by them at various destinations. (Printed Transcript, pages 295, 694.) These destinations include every town of any consequence in California. These circulars are sent out to the other cement companies and to the trade. The prices listed are computed on the base price at the Davenport plant and the Riverside plant, respectively, plus transportation to the respective towns. The base price, or "mill base" as it is called, includes cost of production and profit—that is to say, the selling price at that particular mill. (Printed Transcript, page 294 ff.)

The testimony disclosed that whenever bids were called for by the State for cement, say at San Quentin, or at the Agnews State Hospital, or at the Chico State College, the Davenport company would put in its bid in accordance with its own printed list; and all other northern California companies who bid would put in the exact figures taken from the list published by the Davenport company. (Printed Transcript, page 150.)

The same procedure prevailed in southern California. All the companies there followed the figures contained in the list published by the Riverside company as its prices for delivery at its particular destination. The price list issued by the Riverside company, on October 5, 1928, fixed its price at 28 cents in southern California. (Exhibit L. A. No. 7; see Reporter's Transcript.)

RETAILERS COMPELLED TO CONFORM.

In addition, the "bell-wether" company issued a list to retailers, or dealers, which set out the price which the company felt proper for dealers to quote. The price list for dealers issued by the Riverside company on October 22, 1927, "suggested" the dealer's price at 4 cents a sack above the carload prices shown on the company's printed list. In other words, the company specified the profit that the retailer was to make. Lest any retailer have the temerity to underbid his competitor in the retail field by reducing his profit, or otherwise departing from strict uniformity of price, a warning was set forth in the circular which warning he would have no difficulty in construing.

To give point to its suggestion the circular states:

"It is very important for this company, to its dealers and to the public generally, to maintain permanent means of distributing our cement in an efficient and business-like manner.

"This policy provides very liberal margins and terms for dealers, and unless southern California dealers handling Riverside and Bear brands of cement are able to resell at a minimum price 4 cents per sack above our carload list prices to consumers it would be unreasonable to consider them a safe and permanent means of distribution."

The cement companies testified that they were not bound by contract to follow the list price set by the "bell-wether," but that they had learned by bitter experience the consequences of cutting prices, and feared the retaliation of the other companies if they started a price war. Their testimony was that their self-interest dictated that they maintain uniform prices.

"GARY DINNERS" IMPROVED UPON.

The method followed by the cement companies is an advance over the day of the "Gary dinners," when a group of executives around a banquet table each vigorously protested that what he said was not to be binding, but that he felt that a certain price or a certain procedure would be followed by all parties who used good judgment. This method was abandoned in 1911 in anticipation of an inquiry by the Stanley House Committee or possible adverse ruling by the courts. "The Trust Problem in the United States" (Eliot Jones), page 225 ff.

The method followed by the cement companies of California, as disclosed by the committee's investigation, is the same as that followed by the coal operators in the issuance by one company of a price list which the others implicitly follow. "The Anthracite Coal Combination in the United States" (Eliot Jones), pages 170-173.

COLLAPSE OF ANTITRUST LAWS.

Further, they claimed that there was nothing illegal in maintaining uniform prices; that there was nothing reprehensible in uniform prices, unless such prices were unreasonable. In this they are merely taking advantage of the collapse of our State antitrust law, known as the Cartwright Act.

As first passed in the year 1907, this act outlawed all combinations for price fixing. Within two years, apparently yielding to a widespread business custom toward price fixing, that act was amended so as to outlaw price fixing only if such prices were "unreasonable." (Statutes 1909: 594.) And finally it has been declared unconstitutional in this way:

The Supreme Court of the United States, in passing upon language identical with that of the amended Cartwright Act, which had been used in a Colorado statute, held the Colorado statute unconstitutional, saying that a merchant or dealer could not be required to determine at his own hazard whether his profit was unreasonable; that the business man did not have to face the possibility of going to jail because he was wrong in his judgment as to whether his price was reasonable or not; that the statute did not specify whether a profit of 5 per cent or 10 per cent or 25 per cent or 50 per cent constituted the limit of reasonableness, and that on account of the vagueness of the expression "unreasonable profit," one could not be held responsible for guessing as to whether he was or was not violating the law. Cline vs. Frink Dairy Co., 274 U. S. 445.

The history of the federal antitrust laws (Sherman and Clayton acts) shows a similar breakdown. Probably the net result of several decades of antitrust legislation by the federal government has been merely the goading of lawyers to invent bomb proof super trusts.

UNISON OF ACTION AN ESTABLISHED PROCEDURE.

The fact that identity of bids has prevailed for so many years may be accepted as satisfactory evidence that it is an established procedure of the cement companies to maintain uniformity. Two questions now naturally arise:

1. Whether the practice is reprehensible.
2. What can be done about it.

With regard to the first question, obviously, the vice of price fixing does not lie in the fact of uniformity, but depends upon whether the consumer is compelled to pay an unfair, unreasonable and exorbitant profit. The refusal of the cement companies to produce their books or income tax returns, or to testify in regard to their earnings, precludes the committee from reporting on the question of whether the companies are earning unreasonable profits. The companies had the opportunity to dispel the popular impression that they are "making millions" in exorbitant profits. Their refusal to testify leaves them open to the adverse inference that they can not disprove this general belief.

DAY OF FREE COMPETITION PAST.

Irrespective of whether or not it is reprehensible, price fixing exists and is increasing. Probably the most conspicuous example is the uniform price of gasoline. Distributors fix the price of milk; printers fix the price of printing.

The modern tendency is toward consolidations, mergers and monopolies, whether in the field of production, distribution or finance. This is the day of the branch bank, the chain store, the industrial monopoly. This development has come in spite of legislative fiat, in spite of decisions by our courts, in spite of flaying by the press. In fact, the government itself is today furthering combinations. It looks with favor upon the consolidation of railroads. It is fostering associations of agricultural producers. Through the Federal Farm Board it is fixing the price of wheat. The Federal Trade Commission permits the issuance and following of price lists such as practiced by the cement companies of California. (Printed Transcript, pages 805, 968.) The day of free competition is past.

As to the second question, namely, what is to be done about this price fixing by monopolies, it is not the purpose of this report to attempt to solve this perplexing and far-reaching economic and social problem.

FIGHT LOST BY AMERICAN PEOPLE.

The realization that we have entered on a new economic era can not but be viewed with serious thought. We have to recognize that with the passing of free competition the American people have lost the fight which they have been conducting for at least two generations. We have to recognize that a system, a culture, almost a civilization—that which has brought America to its present pinnacle of achievement and which has been based upon individual initiative—is being swept into the discard.

The result of the committee's investigation merely confirms a widespread feeling that the Cartwright Act is today not even a pitiful protection to the consumer. While economists and prosecutors still differ as to the worth of antitrust laws, the view among students is rapidly prevailing that they fail wretchedly in their avowed purpose. We seem to be compelled to face frankly the economic facts and realize that we are in an era of consolidations, price fixing and monopolies.

NEW PROTECTION REQUIRED.

The new movement toward consolidation gives inconceivable power to the monopoly; the individual consumer stands helpless before it. The public must have protection. The two forms of protection that have been most frequently counted on or advocated in the past are antitrust laws and the regulating of monopolies as public utilities. Both of these avenues of relief we now find closed. Our State antitrust law fails utterly as a protection. The attempt by the State to make the cement companies public utilities is blocked by decisions of the United States Supreme Court holding that the distributors of such commodities as gasoline and meat (and presumably cement) can not be regulated as utilities. Wolff Packing Co. vs. Court Indus. Rel. of Kan., 265 U. S. 522, 67 L. Ed. 1103; Williams vs. Standard Oil Co. of La. (Nov. 23, 1928), 278 U. S. 235, 73 L. Ed. 287.

With the protection of our antitrust law swept aside and with the door to regulation as utilities closed, some other and newer protection must be found. Whatever the solution, it will have to be obtained by looking forward, not backward. The wheels of economic progress do not travel the roads of yesterday.

Whether that protection shall be in the form of some yet untried and increased governmental regulation and control, it is not my purpose to recommend. It is my purpose, however, to point out that with the establishment of monopoly, some form of protection must be given to the consumer against its vast, uncontrolled and autocratic power.
